

REFERENCE INFORMATION FOR ORGANIZED USER GROUPS (OUGs) STAYING OVERNIGHT AT RECREATIONAL AND EDUCATIONAL CAMPS

Chapter ATCP 78, the 'Rec Ed' Code, describes several requirements that Organized User Groups (OUGs) must follow in order to conduct appropriate recordkeeping and provide adequate supervision of and safety for campers and staff in these settings. The Camp as the licensee is responsible for making sure the OUG complies with the code and ensures health and safety, and proper documentation during their visit.

An OUG is a group of adults and usually children who are affiliated in some way either through common interest or membership in a club or other organization. There is some familiarity amongst members and leadership within the group, usually along with adult supervision.

The training, credentials and documentation that are needed by an OUG to ensure the health and safety of their campers will generally be based on length of stay, though other factors may be involved as shown in the Checklists below. The types of records that the OUG should provide to the Camp are also described below. For longer stays, the Camp is required to keep copies of certain records kept by the OUG.

In order to help the Camp comply with the provisions of ATCP 78, OUGs must complete planning and preparations beforehand related to a few specific areas, and must generally otherwise follow ATCP 78. We briefly summarize requirements below:

HEALTH SERVICES STAFFING

There are first aid and CPR/AED requirements that apply to OUGs. Generally these are slightly less rigorous than for a Camp servicing campers directly, but there are specific courses that are approved. The Checklists below address the qualifications required of staff involved in caring for health needs of campers. The Checklists reference a chart that describes health services staffing based on the particular Camp operations. The chart, 'Approved Courses and Certifications for Recreational Facilities' can be found at https://datcp.wi.gov/Pages/Programs_Services/RecEdCampgrounds.aspx .

HEALTH SERVICES STAFFING RECIPROCITY

The Rec. Ed. Code requires that any doctors who are serving as consulting physician, or doctors or nurses serving as the health staff member who is satisfying the first aid and CPR requirement, be Wisconsin-licensed. Currently there are compacts that allow for reciprocity for doctors (MDs and DOs) and nurses (RNs and LPNs) in many states, however, reciprocity must be obtained before camp starts in order to meet the Rec. Ed. Code requirements. The 'multistate' license for RNs and LPNs is accepted in Wisconsin and must either state 'multistate,' on the license or be verifiable on www.nursys.com. There is a fact sheet to help with understanding reciprocity. More about reciprocity can be found at https://datcp.wi.gov/Pages/Programs_Services/RecEdCampgrounds.aspx .

HEALTH RECORDS

Any administration of medication or first aid treatment provided by the OUG must be logged in a bound logbook. For examples of what a bound logbook looks like, please visit our website

(https://datcp.wi.gov/Pages/Programs_Services/RecEdCampgrounds.aspx). Length of stay is going to determine whether an OUG may keep the paperwork without providing a copy to the Camp, or whether they must provide copies to the Camp. The Checklists below can be used to determine whether the Camp must keep copies of the OUG's health records or not, and which types of records they must keep.

MEDICATION DISPENSING

Health services staff may designate a group leader to secure and dispense medications. This means that if the Camp is providing health care, their health staff may appoint a group member to dispense medication. If the OUG is handling their own health services staffing, their qualified health staff member may appoint a group member to dispense medication. Please note that all medication dispensed must be logged in a bound logbook, along with any other medical treatment provided.

FOOD SAFETY

The Camp must provide food safety orientation, in writing or by video to the OUG. The OUG should review this information and consult with the Camp regarding any questions before Camp starts. Orientation must cover food service health and hygiene, safe food handling, and utensil washing and sanitizing.

WATER ACTIVITIES

An OUG may use the water activity area if Camp water activity staff are present and supervising. An OUG may also use the water activity area(s) with their own water activity staff, but those staff must meet the requirements of ATCP 78 for waterfront. The Camp is responsible for making sure that the OUG is properly staffing the water activity area(s). An OUG may also be able to use the water activity area(s) for boating or similar non-swimming activities without a lifeguard if they are a group of adults or families with an adult person who will be responsible for the safety for that group. The responsible adult is not required to hold lifeguard credentials, activities are limited to non-swimming activities, and PFDs must be worn. The Camp must provide safety procedures for the OUG to follow in such cases.

CHECKLIST A: REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL ORGANIZED USER GROUPS

The charts below provide some of the key requirements of ATCP 78. The Camp is responsible for making sure the OUG follows the provisions of the Code, but key requirements are provided here for OUGs to use in planning.

CHECKLIST B1-B3: HEALTH PAPERWORK AND CREDENTIALING REQUIRED FOR OUGs

The Checklists below may be used to determine the document retention and health staffing credentials that are required. They refer to approved courses and certifications that are listed in the chart, 'Approved Courses and Certifications for Recreational Facilities.' This chart is located under 'Additional Resources' at:

Please note that where a Basic course and certification may be acceptable for some situations, that Basic certification is a minimum requirement; Courses and certifications approved for Comprehensive first aid and Professional CPR or Comprehensive First Aid and CPR may also be used to meet the requirement where only Basic courses and certifications are acceptable.
